SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Final Exam Conflicts

Students who have conflicts in their examination schedules or who have four or more exams in one day, may arrange to take an examination on a different day or at a different time. To be eligible to make this change, the following must happen:

1. Permission for the adjusted schedule must be obtained from the Vice President for Academic Affairs, then the professor.
2. Final Examination Change Forms are available in the Academic Affairs Office and must be completed and signed ONE WEEK prior to the taking of the examination.
3. The rescheduled examination must be taken during a time when the instructor is giving another examination.

Students will not be permitted to change exams for, but not limited to, the following reasons: conflict with flight arrangements, weddings, or work.

The 2009 Spring Final Examination Week is scheduled for Monday – Thursday, May 4-7. Exam administration dates and times will be released in October, 2008.
